Four Days of Diving in Coiba National Park

Enjoy relaxing and extraordinary diving in a UNESCO World Heritage Site, Coiba National Park. Divers will experience locations rarely visited by others. Pelagics are often seen, including that we will be there during plankton season, bringing whale sharks and manta rays to the area.

Need to know for the Coiba Island Experience

- Please note that this is a remote location, so expect rustic conditions on the dive days near the island.
- Please have everything that you'll need, including cash, either on arrival or before leaving Panamá City.
- There are no ATMs in the Park. In Panamá City, ATM withdrawals are $7 and may limit amounts. Using credit cards may not be possible for our time in Veraguas Province and/or at Coiba National Park.
- Wi-Fi access is limited by these conditions. Expect to be largely "off-grid" for the dive days (Aug 12-15).
- We will be in a tropical rainforest that has mosquitos. Bring any supplies needed for your comfort.
- Beer + wine inc. w. post-dive happy hours + evening meals (Aug 12-15). Spirits, not provided. You will need to bring them, as they may not be locally-sourced.
- Three meals each day—fresh, locally-sourced foods—will be prepared by our chef who will travel with us.
- Even though off-grid, our lodging will accommodate charging phones, cameras, flashlight batteries and other equipment overnight.

Diving in Coiba National Park...

Please note that the dives in Coiba National Park are deeper and best-suited for advanced and more experienced divers. If you are OW and AOW certified, you will be able to hire a personal dive guide to accompany you on this experience, making Coiba's shallower dive sites readily accessible. Please address any questions that you may have with Kramer Wimberley.

Suggested Flights:

Private transport will be provided for each leg of our journey. This includes scheduling private airport transfers at PTY for arrivals and departures to the Casco Viejo; between Panamá City and Veraguas Province for our stay near Coiba National Park; and from Veraguas to the overnight in Sobrerania National Park. We suggest these incoming and outbound flights to coordinate the best small group plan. If you'll choose different airlines or flights, please plan to arrive at PTY around this time or notify us of your travel plans, so that we can discuss the fees for scheduling an additional driver for the airport transfers or any leg of the journey. All questions welcome.
